Article: 2016 Practice Exam MCQ AP Human Geography: A Comprehensive Guide

Introduction: Navigating the AP Human Geography Exam

The AP Human Geography exam is a significant challenge for many high school students. Its breadth of topics and the need for critical thinking can feel overwhelming. This guide, structured around the 2016 practice exam, aims to demystify the exam and provide a comprehensive understanding of key concepts. We'll delve into each chapter topic, providing explanations, examples, and practice questions to ensure you're well-prepared.

1. Geography's Tools & Nature of Geography:

Keywords: spatial interaction, spatial patterns, geographic tools (GIS, GPS, remote sensing), cartography, scale, maps, projections.

Explanation: This section explores the fundamental tools and concepts used in geographic analysis. Understanding map projections, scales, and the use of GIS and GPS is crucial. Analyzing spatial patterns and interactions is key to interpreting geographic data. Practice identifying different map types and interpreting their features.

Practice Questions: Imagine a map showing population density. How might different map projections influence the perception of that density? What are the advantages and disadvantages of using aerial photography versus satellite imagery?

1. Population & Migration:

Keywords: demographic transition model, population pyramids, migration patterns, push-pull factors, carrying capacity, population density, fertility rates, mortality rates.

Explanation: This chapter focuses on population dynamics, including birth and death rates, migration patterns, and their impact on population distribution. The demographic transition model is a key concept to understand population change over time. Analyzing population pyramids provides insights into age and sex structures.

Practice Questions: How does the demographic transition model explain changes in population growth? What are some examples of push and pull factors influencing migration? How can population pyramids be used to predict future population trends?

1. Cultural Patterns & Processes:

Keywords: cultural diffusion, cultural landscapes, ethnic enclaves, globalization, cultural imperialism, language families, religion, folk culture, popular culture.

Explanation: This section delves into the complexities of cultural patterns and processes.

Understand how cultures spread (diffusion), the influence of globalization, and the formation of cultural landscapes. Analyze the impact of cultural interaction and the development of ethnic enclaves.

Practice Questions: Describe different types of cultural diffusion. How does globalization impact local cultures? What are some examples of cultural landscapes?

1. Political Organization of Space:

Keywords: state, nation, nation-state, sovereignty, territoriality, boundary disputes, gerrymandering, supranational organizations, devolution.

Explanation: This chapter focuses on the political organization of space, examining the concepts of states, nations, and nation-states. Understanding territoriality, boundary disputes, and the role of supranational organizations is essential. Analyze how political power shapes geographic spaces.

Practice Questions: What are the differences between a state and a nation? What are some causes of boundary disputes? How do supranational organizations influence the political landscape?

1. Agriculture & Rural Land Use:

Keywords: agricultural revolutions, Von Thünen model, intensive vs. extensive agriculture, agribusiness, desertification, deforestation, sustainable agriculture.

Explanation: This section explores the evolution of agriculture, different agricultural practices, and their impact on the environment. Understand the Von Thünen model and how it explains land use patterns. Analyze the challenges of sustainable agriculture and environmental issues like deforestation and desertification.

Practice Questions: How has agriculture changed over time? Explain the Von Thünen model. What are some challenges facing sustainable agriculture?

1. Industrialization & Economic Development:

Keywords: industrial revolution, Rostow's stages of economic growth, Wallerstein's world-systems theory, globalization, industrial location factors, free trade, outsourcing, sustainable development.

Explanation: This chapter focuses on the process of industrialization and economic development. Understanding different economic theories, such as Rostow's stages and Wallerstein's world-systems theory, is crucial. Analyze the factors influencing industrial location and the impact of globalization on economic development.

Practice Questions: Explain Rostow's stages of economic growth. How does Wallerstein's world-systems theory explain global inequalities? What are some factors that influence industrial location?

1. Cities & Urban Land Use:

Keywords: urbanization, central place theory, concentric zone model, sector model, multiple nuclei model, urban sprawl, gentrification, suburbanization, megacities.

Explanation: This section examines the patterns and processes of urbanization. Understanding different urban models (concentric zone, sector, multiple nuclei) is essential to analyzing urban spatial structure. Analyze the challenges of urban growth, including sprawl, gentrification, and the rise of megacities.

Practice Questions: Explain the different urban models. What are some challenges facing megacities? How does suburbanization impact urban areas?

Conclusion: Exam Strategies & Beyond

Effective exam preparation involves consistent practice, thorough understanding of concepts, and the development of effective test-taking strategies. Review your work, identify areas needing improvement, and practice time management.
