Book Concept: Bailey White Mama Makes Up Her Mind

Logline: A resilient Appalachian woman confronts the challenges of aging, societal expectations, and a changing world, discovering her own strength and forging a new path for her future.

Storyline/Structure:

The book follows Bailey White, a widowed Appalachian woman in her late 60s, clinging to familiar routines in a rapidly changing world. Her small mountain town is experiencing economic decline, her children are urging her to move closer, and her own health is failing. The story unfolds through a series of interconnected vignettes, each exploring a different facet of Bailey's life and her internal struggle. These vignettes weave together to form a larger narrative about self-discovery, resilience, and the power of community.

The structure will be thematic, rather than strictly chronological. Chapters will focus on specific themes – confronting fear, embracing change, redefining identity, rediscovering purpose, finding strength in community, and ultimately, making peace with the past and embracing the future. Each chapter will incorporate elements of Bailey's past, present, and potential future, allowing readers to witness her transformation organically. The story will incorporate elements of Southern Gothic, Appalachian folklore, and heartwarming realism.

Ebook Description:
