Title: Blood West Angel's Halo

Genre: Historical Fiction/Western Thriller with elements of Mystery & Supernatural

Logline: A hardened gunslinger with a dark past finds himself embroiled in a supernatural conspiracy in the lawless Arizona Territory of 1888, where a celestial event unleashes ancient evils and forces him to confront his own demons to save the innocent.

Storyline/Structure:

The story unfolds in two parallel narratives:

Present (1888): Caleb "Cole" West, a morally ambiguous gunslinger haunted by a tragic event, arrives in the dusty town of Redemption, Arizona. A strange celestial event – a blood-red halo surrounding the setting sun – precedes a series of bizarre and violent occurrences. Cole, despite his cynical nature, becomes entangled in a mystery involving a secretive cult, ancient prophecies, and a powerful entity that feeds on fear and despair. He must unravel the mystery before the entity consumes the town and beyond.

Past (flashbacks): Interwoven throughout the present-day narrative are flashbacks revealing Cole's past, explaining his hardened exterior and the tragic event that shaped him. These flashbacks gradually reveal the deeper connection between his past and the supernatural events unfolding in Redemption.

The story will build suspense through escalating stakes, unexpected twists, and the gradual unveiling of the supernatural threat. The climax will involve a showdown between Cole, the cult, and the powerful entity, forcing Cole to make a difficult choice between his own redemption and the survival of the town.

The introduction serves as a crucial hook, immediately immersing the reader in the atmosphere of Redemption, Arizona, in 1888. It paints a vivid picture of the town – its dusty streets, dilapidated saloons, and the ever-present sense of lawlessness. The introduction also introduces Caleb "Cole" West, our protagonist, highlighting his rugged appearance, cynical demeanor, and the weight of his past.
